Tim--

It looks like I'm too involved with working on my own book to come celebrate Jim Goode's book and Christmas today. Just got an issue of The Realist to the printer. There's an item about your cryogenics career move, with a wonderful illustration of ~~xx~~ Rodin's The Thinker, holding his decapitated head in hand. I've enclosed the drawings that were not used.

Happy holidays to you & Barbara & Zack,
